

Fr. Peter Joslyn Accepted The Call To Be The Next Curate At Holy Trinity Church

We are pleased to announce that The Rev. Fr. Peter Joslyn, who visited Holy Trinity Church two weeks ago, has accepted the call to serve at Holy Trinity Church. He will serve for two years as Curate. Although Fr. Joslyn will certainly teach courses at Lindisfarne Hall, as Curate his primary responsibility will be pastoral ministry in the parish.

Fr. Peter Joslyn (of Virginia) is married to Erin (of Missouri), whom he met while they both taught at a Classical school in Virginia. They have four children: Davie (7), Claire (5), Jimmy (4) and Belle (2 months).

Fr. Peter is a graduate of Wabash College in Indiana (classical Languages!) and Reformed Episcopal Seminary in Blue Bell, Pennsylvania (Divinity). He has extensive experience teaching at classical schools in Virginia and Missouri. As Fr. Joslyn said during his visit, he has a “passion for classical education.”

Fr. Joslyn will begin his curacy in February of 2019, in time for Ash Wednesday (March 6) and the Lenten Fast. Thanks be to God for sending Holy Trinity Church another excellent young priest, and for the whole Joslyn family. We look forward to welcoming them all into our Holy Trinity Anglican Family.

What's Curious About Lindisfarne Hall!

The 1828 edition of Webster's Dictionary records a delightful definition for curious: "Strongly desirous to discover what is unknown; solicitous to see or to know; inquisitive." It continues, "Habitually inquisitive; addicted to research or enquiry..."

It is difficult to know which one of those definitions applies most perfectly to our curious approach. Our project is to cultivate in all our students a deep desire to discover the truths and insights passed down to us from Holy Scripture, from the early Church Fathers, from the Greek philosophers, from every source of this great Western culture we have inherited from our forefathers. At Lindisfarne Hall, we are diligently forming in each child the habituation of research and inquiry.

Why is curiosity so important? In her seminal work on Classical education Consider This, Karen Glass points out that the great difference between a modern approach to education versus a classical approach is found in the goal. Classical education has as its purpose to cultivate virtuous men and women. Since virtue is knowledge (truth) enacted, we must form our students after the example of him from whom all knowledge flows: Jesus Christ.

By giving our school the tag line A Curiously Christian and Classical School, we are committing ourselves to encouraging and cultivating curiosity in the hearts, minds and souls of our students, so that, habituated to seek and know truth, they may enact truth in virtuous living. Until they are conformed to the image of Jesus Christ.

Safety at Holy Trinity Church

In these troubled times, rest assured that the leaders of HTAC are acting to keep you as safe as possible. HTAC has installed a security system including cameras which record every entrance to all of our buildings. We also have “panic buttons” which call for police assistance. Some of those buttons are physically installed in the chancel, others are worn around the necks of the ushers so that trained individuals are always within reach of calling for help. Furthermore, ushers and volunteers are trained to take safety precautions and stand guard to keep watch against any intruders or persons of malicious intent. More importantly, we ask our Guardian Angels to keep watch over us while we pray.
